Dancing for a cause: Hancock County Relay for Life hosts dancing with the relay stars

BY CASSANDRA FAVRE Staff Writer

Dancers of all ages on Saturday whirled, twirled, and gyrated at Hancock County Relay for Life's inaugural Dancing with the Relay Stars. The event — held at the Hollywood Casino ballroom — is the official kickoff event for this year's Relay for Life events, Hancock County Relay for Life co-lead Bernie Cullen said. Prior to the dance competition, the Raw Oyster Marching Club performed. There were 11 acts, which ranged from solo and couples performances to group acts. This year's performers included: Suzanne Cotter; Cotter's group dance with the G.O.A.L. Diggers; Trina Cuccia and Ronald Avery; Elizabeth Bettencourt; Ashley Bulloch and Erin Hicks; Pearl Peterman and Dylan Delcuze; Debora Powell and Robbie Greenwood; Cullen; Jaimee and Joel

Hancock Coroner pushes to move MS forward in forensics

BY STACEY CATO Contributing Writer

Hancock County Coroner Jim Faulk has big plans to help move Mississippi forward in forensics. Faulk, long-time Hancock County coroner, has been appointed as the District 8 Region president of the Mississippi Coroner-Medical Examiners Association (MSCMEA). MSCMEA is a not-for-profit organization which aims to better inform and educate private and public agencies, and all other Mississippians, on the vital tasks Mississippi coroners and medical examiners perform every day. "Our organization helps to teach others about our field through educational seminars, extensive training, and other resources we use to assist in medicolegal death investigations," Faulk said. One major problem Mississippi has been fighting for decades, Faulk said, is the time it takes when conducting death investigations.

BSL FD works Sunday evening fire; urges people to clean fireplaces regularly

BY GEOFF BELCHER News Editor

The Bay St. Louis Fire Department on Sunday evening responded to a blaze in the 400 block of Easterbrook Street, just around the corner from St. Rose de Lima Catholic Church. "We had three units out there," Fire Chief Monty Strong said, "and Waveland ran mutual aid with us. ... They sent one unit with two firefighters, and Chief Mallini responded." The fire was reported at a little before 9 p.m. Sunday. Everyone in the house

Powell and Greenwood tied for third place with Cotter and the G.O.A.L. Diggers. The People's Choice award went to the King and Queen of the Mystic Krewe of the Seahorse and friends. Cotter was also recognized as the star fundraiser. Cullen said the event "exceeded our expectations for our first year." "This night was magical and a great success," she said. "We wanted to have a fun kickoff to our 2019 Hancock County Relay for Life campaign and I think we did it."

Cullen added that all the dancers worked hard on their routines. She also like to thanked the local businesses for their support. "I cannot express how grateful we are to our partner, Hollywood Casino, for hosting this amazing night," Cullen said. "I am the luckiest Relay volunteer to have such a wonderful Relay co-chair, Nonnie Richardson, and all of our

Relay committee members. This was truly a team effort. "We all want to honor our cancer survivors and raise dollars to help find a cure for all cancers." The Hancock County Relay for Life event is scheduled for May 4 from 1 to 8 p.m. at the Hollywood Casino's walking path. Hollywood Casino is located at 711

Hollywood Blvd., Bay St. Louis. The ballrooms are booked in event of inclement weather, Cullen said. Learn more about Relay for Life of Hancock at www.relayforlife.org/hancockms. A full photo album of Saturday's event can be viewed at www.seacoastecho.com.

Hancock County emergency officials investigate a ‘mysterious odor’ near Bayside

BY STACEY CATO
Contributing Writer

Officials are investigating what caused a mysterious odor to seep from a Hancock County home into the streets of the Springfield subdivision Friday night.

Shortly before 7 p.m. Friday, Bayside Fire Department was called to the scene of a suspicious chemical smell coming from a home on Orange Street.

According to officials, police had been dispatched to the home earlier in the day when a third party reported their neighbors had been acting "rather peculiar."

Later, officers were called back out to the home and that's when they smelled a bad odor, they said, and called for fire crews to help inspect the suspicious smell reportedly seeping from inside the household.

"We could smell the odor at the street when we arrived," said Bayside Fire Chief Tony Johnston. "So our crew suited up in our bunker gear with heavy-duty masks in order to enter the home safely to find the source of the smell."

The Mississippi Department of Environmental Equality Emergency Response Division was called to the scene along with Hancock County Emergency Management officials, who evacuated the homeowners while firefighters conducted an initial search and opened all windows and doors for ventilation purposes.

Several containers of suspicious chemicals suspected to be the cause of the odor were removed from the home. Although the containers were normal household cleaning products, officials said, they did not believe that was what was contained inside.

"Right now, we don't know what it is," DEQ On-site Coordinator Nick Hatten said. "They are in regular household containers but I can tell you now that is not what's in those. For instance, one says 'Gain Laundry Detergent,' but that is not Gain laundry detergent in that vessel."

DEQ officials contained and hauled each off each of the unknown chemicals.

"Normally we respond to fixed facilities, highway incidents and vessel incidents, things of that nature, however if we get called in by a fire department and/or Emergency Management we will come out and evaluate the situation and safely remove any chemicals that are posing a danger to the environment and are a threat to human health and properly dispose of them," Hatten said. "Whatever they are, these are just that, dangerous."

Officials said the residents reported having mixed several household cleaners together just before cleaning up the inside of the home.

The homeowners were there while emergency crews helped to clear the scene. Although EMA officials did not recommend the homeowners going back inside, they went back into their home just before officials wrapped up.

DEQ recommends people "to be mindful of the chemicals you have around your household."

They suggest looking carefully at product labeling and safety data sheets. They say to familiarize yourself with any chemicals you may have before use.

"I can't stress it enough," Hatten said. "Those things will tell you what that chemical is, what not to mix with it with and what to actually clean with it. What I mean by that is if the product is labeled toilet bowl cleaner use it for toilet bowls and use it as instructed. Be careful with what you may mix so you don't harm yourself, others or the environment.

An investigation into the identification of the chemicals found is ongoing.

No physical injuries were reported.

Three arrested for counterfeit bills at Silver Slipper Casino

BY GEOFF BELCHER
News Editor

Hancock County deputies arrested three people early Sunday morning for allegedly trying to pass counterfeit bills at a local casino.

"Shortly after midnight, deputies were called over to the Silver Slipper where a guy tried to pass two $100 bills that were counterfeit," Investigator Matt Sekinger said. A casino employee recognized the bills were counterfeit and alerted authorities, Sekinger said.

"Two of them were trying to be look-outs while the other was trying to pass the bills, so we charged them all," Sekinger said.

Jail records show Zachary Aaron Goude, 28, of Lancaster, S.C., was charged with forgery -- possession of counterfeit bank notes with intention to utter. He was also charged with felony possession of a controlled substance.

Goude was released on $35,000 in bonds later on Sunday

Michael W. Halstead, 36, of Pearl River, La., was charged with forgery - possession of counterfeit bank notes with intention to utter. He was released Monday on $1,000 bond.

Dancing for a cure; and remembering those we've lost

On Saturday evening, Hancock County Relay of Life hosted its inaugural kickoff event, Dancing with the Relay Stars.

Dozens of local dancers showed off their talents and proved that they do indeed have the moves.

It was a fun event for me to cover and I enjoyed it. For many dancers, their reasons for participating involved knowing someone who has battled cancer.

The funds raised through Relay for Life not only contribute to the American Cancer Society's research efforts, but also help local cancer patients with expenses.

I was about 12 years old when I first learned about cancer and also experienced the death of a close loved one.

My Uncle Rickey was 23 years old when he was diagnosed with Stage 4 colon cancer.

At the time, he was my favorite uncle. He was the father of three young children under the age of 5.

Being the oldest of my cousins, I always had such a ball playing with the babies.

One of my favorite memories of him involves my parents' old station wagon. They were getting a new car and gave it to Uncle Rickey.

We were standing in the driveway of my grandparents' old home on Chartres Street in Cedar Point. He looked at me with the biggest and proudest smile and said that he was finally going to get to take his family on a family vacation, just like my parents always did for me and my sister.

About six months after his diagnosis and aggressive treatments, Uncle Rickey passed away on Dec. 4, 1994. Not only did he leave behind a young wife and children, he left behind his parents, 13 siblings, and numerous nieces and nephews.

His passing left a hole in our family that has never been filled.

I think about him all the time and what might have been. His passing certainly shaped my life and I've learned (although not always practice as I should) to not take this life or anything for granted and not to sweat the small stuff.

He has a grandchild now and I'm sure he would be over the moon.

Since then, too many more of my family members and friends have suffered or passed away from cancer. I've also written stories about children diagnosed with cancer. It puts things in perspective in ways that I can't describe. My admiration for survivors is also off the charts.

As I sat there watching locals dancing for the cause, I couldn't help but hope that one day, a cure for all types of cancer will be found.

Finding that perfect balance

Count me as one of the few people who believe the United States, and many other developed countries, have a good, balanced way of governing.

It really comes down to money and who gets it. The free market theory argues that people who earn the money should keep it. The government theory argues that government should tax the money and reallocate it for important social needs.

In my opinion, neither side is absolutely right or wrong. A balance is needed.

I generally believe the free market is a better way to allocate resources. People should make their own purchasing decisions. That being said, we need roads, schools, courts, police, defense and a host of other services for society to function properly. That requires taxation.

especially those who pay the most. And nobody likes bad roads or crumbling infrastructure.

Over time, our country has developed a stable two-party system. The Republicans advocate low taxes and more free market. The Democrats advocate higher taxes and more government spending.

The nature of politics is such that you need 50 percent plus one of the votes to be in power. So our two parties are delicately balanced. Elections go back and forth.

Unfortunately in Mississippi, we have a tradition of one-party dominance. That kills the delicate give and take necessary to optimize society. The Democrats dominated forever. Now the Republicans are firmly entrenched.

Two Northsiders whom I respect for their intelligence recently published two opposing views on this issue – Jon Pritchett, president and CEO of the Mississippi Center for Public Policy, and Cecil Brown, current central district Public Service Commissioner and a long-time important Mississippi Democrat.

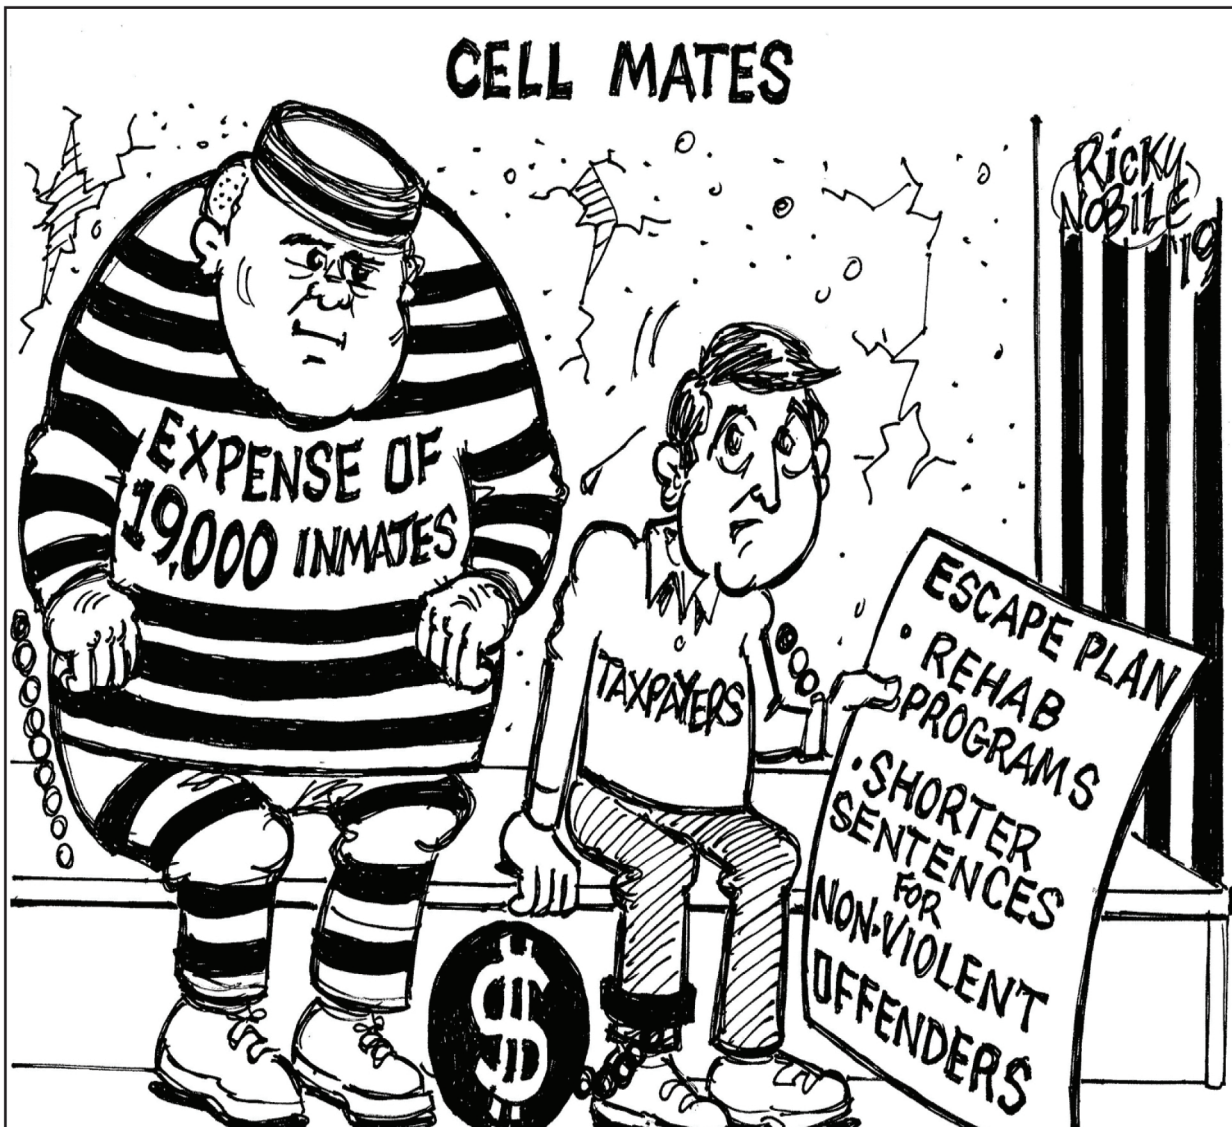

Pritchett focused on Mississippi's 10.2 percent state and local tax burden which is high compared to other Deep South states. He presented an argument looking at low tax states such as Oklahoma and Montana, which have made excellent gains in reducing poverty.

Pritchett argues that as you lower taxes, you increase prosperity and reduce poverty. He writes, "What is the data and evidence telling us? It is informing us to choose capitalism and free markets. It's telling us to move away from a 'command and control' economic system and start relying more on individual freedom, consumer choice, and private competition. It's telling us to allocate more resources towards free enterprise and fewer resources towards the political process. If we can start to get Mississippi's economy growing by adopting policies that prioritize economic liberty, we can experience prosperity."

How can you make a difference in a Veteran's life?

Approximately 230,000 Veterans live in the Gulf Coast Veterans Health Care System three-state catchment area (south Mississippi, south Alabama, and the Florida Panhandle.). Of that amount, 104,000 Veterans are enrolled for care at VA, with about 71,000 actively receiving VA care. Suicide prevention experts claim that of the 20 Veterans a day that are committing suicide each day, 14 of them are not getting their care from VA.

We need your help. The Veterans Crisis Line's initiative "BeThere for Veterans", gives everyone in the community the tools and resources to use to help a Veteran in crisis. The chance is that at some point in your life, you may interact with a Veteran that is in crisis. Will you be able to assist?

LETTER  to the EDITOR

OUR LETTERS POLICY

The Sea Coast Echo welcomes comments from its readers. Letters must be signed and include address or telephone number. Letters should be brief, preferably typewritten and double-spaced. Only one letter per writer per month. The editor reserves the right to edit or reject letters. Letters of thanks, expressions of appreciation and political endorsements are inappropriate.

You don't need to have special training to support the Veterans in your life, and we can all do something to help a Veteran who is going through a difficult time. Even seemingly small actions can have a huge impact. Showing your support can be as simple as sending a Veteran a text message — inviting someone over to catch up or sharing a positive thought are both great ways to communicate that you care. Your words could be exactly what a Veteran in crisis needs to hear, and could be a reminder of the many people out there who are willing to listen.

Educate yourself on how to be a resource in a Veteran's life if they are thinking about suicide. They might show signs of isolation, anger, a loss of hope or just having a hard time reconnecting with the community after leaving the service.

The Suicide Prevention Coordinators for the Gulf Coast Veterans Health Care System are Lynn Worley, 228-523-4288 or Carrie Musselwhite, 850-912-2310.

Forensics

“It can take years to get the final findings back in any death that occurs in the state of Mississippi,” Faulk said. “If law enforcement officials want immediate answers in a suspicious death they’re investigating, then they are forced to spend many hours on the road driving to Pearl, where the only facility that conducts autopsies in Mississippi is located. That’s near Jackson and takes up an investigator’s full day,” Faulk said. Faulk said the lengthy process not only affects law enforcement officers and can keep them from their day-to-day operations, but it also keeps countless families from getting the closure they need and deserve after losing a loved one. The MSCMEA organization is hoping to help change all of that, Faulk said, and has recommendations to catch Mississippi up with the rest of the country.

“For years, we have tossed around ideas on how we can help,” Faulk explained. “We have a state-of-the art facility in the north part of Harrison County that’s never even been staffed. It has the resources necessary to help aid in investigations. It would keep someone who staffs it very busy and help free up our state medical examiners’ time, all while offering a timely solution.” Faulk said the association has a voice in government and the group’s full-time lobbyist has been assisting in gathering the additional funding needed to help hire someone to staff the facility either part-time or full-time. Though their efforts have not yet been successful, Faulk said, he has a feeling they are getting close and plan to continue to push even harder. “Not only would the six southern counties benefit from the facility,” Faulk said, “but the surrounding counties along with the entire state.” The organization also provides educational scholarships for students who are interested in the field, Faulk said. Faulk is set to serve a two-year term. He represents the three coastal counties, as well as George, Stone and Pearl River counties. Faulk’s first official act as district president was at MSCMEA’s first annual business meeting of the year in Flowood. Faulk said part of his duties is to hold four annual meetings in or around his district. A state-wide educational conference will also be held in July at the Scarlet Pearl, Faulk said. To find out more about the non-profit organization, you can visit its website at mscmea.org.

improve. Crime rates go down. Health measures improve and life expectancy expands. Montana and Oklahoma are real-life examples of how lives can be measurably improved when states make a commitment to economic freedom. They’ve shown us the road map. There is no reason Mississippi can’t take the road to freedom. All it takes is the will and the leadership to take the first steps.” Pritchett is presumably happy with the Mississippi Republican Party’s game plan of reducing taxes and cutting government. Cecil Brown, in contrast, is extremely critical of the Republicans and their persistent effort to cut. Brown was the state’s chief financial officer and chief of staff for Democratic Gov. Ray Mabus. He also served as a state representative for many years. In a speech at the Stennis Capitol Press Forum at the Capital Club in downtown Jackson, Brown lambasted the Republicans. Brown said, “The state revenue estimate for the 2019 fiscal year is $39 million more than the revenue estimate for 2015. That is an annualized increase of less than one quarter of 1 percent. That is pitiful, and, if you consider that millions of dollars of what used to be special funds are now in the general fund, there is probably no growth at all. “As a result - we have seen significant budget cuts in the last four years, and most of our state employees have not had a pay raise in more than 10 years.

“Here are some examples of cuts. Comparing appropriations from the 2015 fiscal year with current appropriations: Library Commission cut 17 percent - $2 million; Community college support cut 8 percent - $20 million; Health cut 20 percent- $38 million; Mental health cut 3 percent - $17 million; Ag and commerce cut 10 percent - $1.5 million; MDA cut 15 percent - $5 million; Forestry cut 6 percent - $1.7 million. “We fund our public schools at one of the lowest rates in the nation. On average, we pay our teachers $19,000 per year less than the national average and more than $6,000 less than surrounding states. As a result, we had more than 2,000 teacher vacancies at the beginning of the new school year. Our dropout rate is one of the highest in the country. Our test scores are among the worst in the nation, and absenteeism in the public schools is endemic. We focus on fewer than 1,500 kids in charter schools while the 465,000 kids in public schools go without adequate resources. Over and over we hear that the number one item on business shopping lists is an educated workforce, while our educators and children struggle to deal with leaking roofs, inadequate and outdated technology and overcrowded classrooms. “The life span of the average Mississippian is a full four years less than that of the average American. We did not expand Medicaid so we gave up billions of dollars of federal money that would not only have improved our health statistics, but would have provided thousands of new jobs and prevented our community hospitals from closing. As a result of that decision, hundreds of thousands of Mississippians do not have access to adequate health care.” So there you have it. Two intelligent people who care about our state, each with a fundamentally different view on how we can achieve progress. The debate goes on. Too bad Mississippi doesn’t have two mainstream, competitive political parties to carry the debate all the way to the ballot box. The two-party model has served our nation well, but our state is mired in a monopolistic one-party system that stifles options and leads to lopsided public policy.

They are survived by their children, Robert Bass and his wife Valerie of North Carolina, Charles Bass PhD. of South Carolina, Amy Longo and her husband Ted of Diamondhead MS, 4 grandchildren and 2 great grandchildren. Bill and Betty both grew up in Laurel, MS just a few streets away from each other. Despite their proximity in youth, they didn’t begin dating until both were in New Orleans. Bill was in medical school at Tulane University and Betty was working for the FBI.

Prior to that time, the former Betty Harrell, attended Stephen’s College for Women (located where USM Gulf Coast is now). There she learned secretarial skills, etiquette and how to smoke a cigarette as she would say, “Like a movie star”. Betty was quite the catch having rained as MS Gulf Oil (with the sash to prove it). Bill told us his charm and knowledge of the best tamales in town sealed the deal with her. He was unable to afford the finer dining in the city but, worked while in school to pay for their dates. In fact, during the summer of his last year of med school, he got a job living in the New Orleans jail treating inmates as needed. Yep, room, board and pay! It was there that he treated Charlie Cantrell, part owner of Pat O’Brien’s bar. Charlie was in for a minor liquor license issue and had caught a bad cold. He was so grateful for the medical help that he invited Bill and his entire medical fraternity to the bar for free drinks. That might have been as good as getting paid that summer.

Bill’s undergraduate education was briefly interrupted by WWII. He served in the Navy before returning to Tulane pre-med program.

The Basses began their marriage after med school with an internship in Fort Worth, TX at St. Joseph’s Hospital. This is where Betty found herself becoming familiar with the Catholic culture. She remembered vividly tending bar elbow to elbow with the nuns at fund raisers. She said she never knew that nuns could sling cocktails until that experience or even that nuns could drink.

After residency in Monroe LA where they had their first child, they started general practice life in Laurel MS. Bill delivered babies, performed surgery and worked the ER while Betty delivered a boy and a girl expanding the family to 3 children.

Life took a turn in 1967 when they moved back to New Orleans for a residence in psychiatry. There Bill grew a goatee and learned to smoke a pipe while developing his best Freudian style. He always said, “To be a good psychiatrist one needs a touch of gray hair for the look of wisdom and hemorrhoids for the look of concern”.

Betty adopted the local ways, by having her kids take a picture with Mr. Bingle rather than that old Santa guy. She put Elmer’s gold brick eggs in their Easter baskets and she learned to bring a McKenzie’s king cake to school when one of her children “got the baby”.

1969 was a move to The MS Coast that was delayed due to the destruction from hurricane Camille. Bill answered the call for volunteers and served in the ER on the weekends in Hancock Co. MS where he gained a world of experience in snake bite treatment.

Bill practiced at the Veterans Administration

Hospital in Gulfport. He then started a private practice, was on staff at Memorial Hospital and worked part-time at Gulf Coast Mental Health. He served as Chief of Psychiatry at Memorial Hospital in the 70’s and 80’s, was past president of The Coast Counties Medical Society, Vice-president of The State Medical Society, and on the Board of Directors for CPC Sand Hill hospital.

Dr. Bass cultivated a true love of chicken tenders late in life after the death of his wife. He discovered the delicacy in the hospital cafeteria while visiting Betty in her final days. He marveled that such a food existed and wondered how he had missed this trend. The tender became a true passion fueled by his son-in-law’s shared excitement. They could be found tracking down tenders across the coast in search of the best. The conclusion to the search was that there is no bad chicken tender.

Dr. Bass was known in his family for having trouble finishing a specific joke without laughing to the point of tears. He could never quite get to the punch line and we all enjoyed the struggle.” Zeke, you were right about that pumpkin pie”.

Many thanks to the folks who helped Bill in his journey of life, not least of which was Henry Maggio. Henry’s counterbalanced personality helped the somewhat reserved Bill Bass learn to express himself. If Bill couldn’t say it, Henry certainly could, AND DID. What a wonderful pair they made.

Thank you to Dr. Pat Pierce for including him on fishing trips. He was never happier than when he was on the water catching trout.

Thank you to Wanda Stevens for her lifelong friendship and love for Betty and our family.

Thank you to Catfish Charlie’s for always treating The Basses like dear friends. It was a favorite treat made even better by the dearly loved, Stephanie. She knew the specifics, “catfish crisp with no salt” and never touch Betty’s hairdo!

Thank you to Nancy Howard who shared Bill’s tamale love and often took the time to share dinner with Bill after Betty’s death. He loved the attention and the person.

Also, thanks to Marie Hall who many times took on the responsibility for cornbread and turnip greens that his daughter had no skill in preparing. He was proud to be one of the people who got a hug from Marie. This was a rare thing and he understood that.

Thanks to all the friends and family that put in prayers on our behalf and everyone who participated in Bill’s 91st birthday event. Your cards and messages were much appreciated and really made him feel loved on what turned out to be his last birthday.

Thank you Mike Taylor for not just taking care of the yards but, taking care of the people!

Thank you to Southern Care Hospice.

Special thanks to Dr. Tilley and his staff for their end of life care for both Bill and Betty, Dr. Quinones and his staff, Dr. Mullen and his front desk person who made every effort to treat him like someone very important. He totally loved seeing her face when he would check in at the front desk and would often whisper, “I think she likes me”.

No words can express the appreciation for Karen, Janet (AKA Cinderella), Shannon and Donna for their very personal, undivided attention given to Bill in his final months. He developed a true trust in these women who were protective, caring and devoted. We thank you for helping us hand him over to God.

As you go about your day, consider Bill’s gentle reminder when you feel overwhelmed. “It is far easier to think of things to do than it is to actually do them. Be kind to yourself and don’t overload your plate.” Also, take a moment to be extra kind to an older person. You have no idea what an impact that can make.

NICHOLAS MCLEOD HAAS

"I am the living bread that. came down from heaven, says the Lord, whoever eats of this bread will live forever." John 6:51-52

Being a creature of this earth, rooted in its rhythms and struggles, Nicholas also realized we were created for heaven and its glories beyond imagination; and that our bodies are subject to the frailties of this existence, and on Sunday, January 27, 2019, his soul departed this earth and is destined for eternal life and even greater things; thus his life with us here ended.

Born October 12, 1935, in Gulfport, MS, he was the youngest child of the late J. Norton and Gladys Haas of Bay St. Louis, Mississippi. It would also come to pass that his greatest loss after Katrina was not the material loss, but the loss of his brothers, J. Norton Haas, Jr. and Michael D. Haas, Sr., and also his beloved sister, Geraldine Haas Matthews. Also preceding him in death was his beloved Aunt Virginia Haas McLeod.

His faith and love for God, country and family remained steadfast throughout his life, having served his country as a Captain in the United States Army. For anyone who knew him, it is likely they used words like integrity, compassion, kindness and patience to describe his gentle spirit. Those who carry his name will always carry it proudly. He brought great honor to those who came before him, and those who he leaves behind will always be trying to live up to his good name.

We little knew that on this day, God would call his name. In life we loved him dearly; in his absence, we will do the same. His family left on earth, but who are assured through God's promises, that we will be with him again are his wife, Wanda Logan Haas; his children, Nicholas M. Haas, Jr., (Dwelja), Andrew Haas (Elise), Alexander Haas (Heather) and Gina. His grandchildren are Nicholas Quentin Haas, Ethan Haas (Mary), Madeleine Haas and Jaylen Haas. He is also survived by his brother-in-law, James D. LeGrone, and sisters-in-law, Myrt Haas and Miki Haas. He also leaves behind many nieces and nephews, having found great enjoyment in his many judicial and personal conversations with Michael Jr., and also his vibrant and memorable conversations with his nephew, A.J. LeGrone, who was also his financial advisor.

"Friends are the family you choose for yourself"; thus, he is also survived by his business partner of many years, his friend and his chosen brother in life, Sidney A. Sandoz (Stacie)

of Bay St. Louis, MS.

To Nicholas there was no better of God's creatures than his small, black schnoodle dog, who is not of great lineage, but who has a huge heart and was his constant companion, gold, pure gold. Nicholas gave him the name, Teddy Rose, and he survives to now care for Wanda in the loss of the love of her life, until she is laid to rest beside him in "The Kiln" in Bayou Coco. For it is written, "And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come back and take you to be with me that you also may be where I am." John 14:3.

He was well known and highly regarded in the Mississippi legal profession, having begun his practice with his brother Michael D. Haas, Sr., upon his graduation from the University of Mississippi School of Law in 1965. In 1985 he went into private practice, with his wife, Wanda, always by his side. Their devotion to the legal profession and to the members of the legal community was their true love.

An ordinary man, who shared an extraordinary love of 35 years with his wife, being side-by-side with him always and integrally involved in all his endeavors. It was on October 22, 1983, that he married his eternal sweetheart in St. John's Catholic Church in Gulfport, MS, the services performed by Monsignor Joseph Mercier, who had also taught Wanda in high school. Nicholas and Wanda, in this sacramental bond, "strong as death", pledged their life in good times and in bad, in sickness and in health, unto death. They grabbed life together and wrung every drop of happiness and joy from every day they spent together. Their love was a tireless and bountiful one. There were no pages left unturned and no words left unspoken.

After the material loss of his law office, great damage to his home and the emotional loss of his siblings, he and his wife would retire in 2011 to their cottage built after Katrina in Philadelphia, MS. It was here that he enjoyed the art of gardening;" developing patience, optimism, trust and attention and dealing with disappointments and accepting the imperfections of this world" (words so beautifully written by Ken Neuser). He loved the birds, all of them; magnolia blossoms, the myrtles and blossoms from Wanda's most prized possession, the Grand Duke, a plant they stumbled upon one morning shopping at the Farmer's Market In Bay St. Louis with their beloved Uncle Albert Joyner. Nicholas would always say, with great love, that Albert was the last of the Southern gentlemen. Of course, his favorite lily, the St. Joseph's Lily that had been planted by Betty Benvenuti at St Joseph's Chapel on Dunbar, that Wanda had retrieved after Katrina, bringing it to rest in their cottage garden. Also of great joy were the White Roses from "Saint Pope John Paul II", the rose was selected and planted by Mac Burt and was a cherished gift from a fellow Philadelphia Rotarian, Pat Thomasson, and had been grown by her late father, Hugh Thomasson, who was also a Rotarian and was one of Mississippi's finest Master Gardeners.

In life's on going story, it would be in this community of great love from the family of Holy Cross Catholic Church and the many new friendships formed in Neshoba County that they were to find peace, and Nicholas knew that it was here that he would depart this life as he had live it, in that peace and in the presence of his beloved wife.

It was also during this time that he formed an endless bond with his grandchildren, Quent, Ethan and Madeleine. Travel for son, Andrew and family, was difficult because of the long distance; however, each visit was cherished by both father and son. Son, Nicholas, was ever faithful in keeping his father updated on all of the New Orleans' Saints activities, schedules, wins and; yes, losses. Both never doubted the win of another Super Bowl.

To honor Nicholas's memory, there will be a Mass of Christian Burial on Wednesday, January 30, 2019, at 12:00 noon at Annunciation Catholic Church in "The Kiln", MS, where he was baptized as an infant boy. Services are under the direction of The Haas Family's dear friend, Mrs. Jeanne Sampognaro, Edmond Fahey Funeral Home, Bay St. Louis, MS. Burial will be private.

Memorials in his honor may be made to Holy Cross Knights of Columbus Council No. 13471, 406 Wilson Street, Philadelphia, MS 39350. Nicholas prayed daily for the canonization of the venerable servant of God, Michael McGivney, Founder of the Knights of Columbus. Nicholas was a member for over fifty years and was a Fourth Degree Knight.

To his many friends, please know that you are a major source of strength for us at this time.

History may not recall our names or deeds, but God will. So we ask the Lord that the name Nicholas M. Haas be written in the Book of Life, and that when he comes Into His sight, God will be there with stretched arms, rejoicing in his arrival to say," Nicholas, you are now a Citizen of Heaven", Amen.

Mississippi State Department of Health Issues Winter Weather Safety Tips

SEA COAST ECHO

The Mississippi State Department of Health (MSDH) reminds all Mississippi residents to take proper precautions as winter weather moves across the state tonight and tomorrow.

If the power goes out unexpectedly, there are several food and water safety tips to follow to ensure what you eat and drink is safe for consumption:

If power is out for less than two hours, food in your refrigerator and freezer will be safe to eat. Keep refrigerator and freezer doors closed as much as possible to keep food cold longer.

After two hours, a freezer that is half full will hold food safely for up to 24 hours. A full freezer will hold food safely for 48 hours.

After two hours, pack milk, other dairy products, meat, fish, eggs, gravy, and spoilable leftovers into a cooler surrounded by ice. Inexpensive Styrofoam coolers are fine for this purpose.

Safe water for drinking, cooking, and personal hygiene includes bottled, boiled, or treated water. Watch for specific boil water alerts in your area.

Boiling water, when practical, is the preferred way to kill harmful bacteria and parasites. Bringing water to a rolling boil for 1 minute will kill most organisms.

Also, cold weather brings people indoors seeking warmth. Any heater that burns fuel, such as your furnace, generator, gas water heater or a portable butane or gas heater, produces carbon monoxide that can leak into the air. Mild exposure to carbon monoxide can cause nausea, dizziness or headaches. Severe poisoning can result in brain or heart damage, or even death.

To avoid carbon monoxide poisoning, take the following precautions:

Never burn anything in a stove or fireplace that is not vented properly.

Never heat your house with a gas oven.

Never run a generator indoors, in an enclosed space such as a basement, or near a window.

Do not warm your car up in a closed garage.

If your garage is attached to your house, close the door to the house while you warm up the car.

For more information on winter weather safety, visit the MSDH website at HealthyMS.com/winter.

Winter Weather is Here to Stay

Entergy offers tips to help manage bills during cold snap

SEA COAST ECHO

Below freezing temperatures arrived in Mississippi in late January as widespread subzero cold gripped much of the nation. It will likely stick around for a while, too—until the spring thaw. While many people associate hot temperatures with a rise in their electricity bill, very cold temperatures can also cause higher bills. That makes energy efficiency important year-round.

It takes more energy to keep a home comfortable at 68 degrees when its 25 degrees outside than when temperatures are more moderate. The bigger the difference between inside and outside temperatures, the more energy is used, which affects your bill.

Steps you can take to help save money on winter energy bills include:

Seal air leaks. Install weather stripping around doors, windows and any location where there may be a path between the inside and outside of your home or business.

Adjust the thermostat. Grab a sweater or blanket to stay warm and set the thermostat to 68 degrees. Every degree higher can add 3 percent to your bill.

Conserve hot water. Wrap your electric water heater with a water heater blanket from a local home improvement stores and set the thermostat to 120 degrees or medium.

Keep doors and windows closed. Constant traffic will let out the warm air, forcing your heater to work harder to keep the room at the set temperature.

Ensure fans are turning the right way. Fans should be run at a low speed clockwise during the winter. This helps keep the cold air from blowing down on you.

Keep the air circulating. Don't block heat registers or air returns with curtains or furniture.

Leverage the sun. During the day, open curtains and blinds to let in warm sunlight. Close them at night to reduce heat loss.

Check out energy-efficiency programs. Visit the Entergy Solutions website for energy assessments and rebates on a variety of energy-efficient appliances and upgrades.

For customers struggling to pay their energy bills, Entergy has programs to help. For example, Entergy's The Power to Care program, funded by employees, customers and shareholders, is designed to help elderly and disabled low-income customers with their bills. In addition, local agencies may be able to help. Visit the Help for Paying Your Electric Bills section of Entergy's website.

"With the cold weather coming, we worry about what people are going to do to stay warm," Strong said. "Space heaters and stuff like that, just keeping them clear and keeping objects away from them is very important. Fireplaces, just make sure they're properly installed and inspected and also keep objects out from in front of them."

Rocks down Bay 2-0 for Division 8-4A title, OLA tops Bay & Perry Central

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
Staff Writer

The high school soccer regular season came to a quick close this past weekend with several games in action.

The Bay High Tigers and the St. Stanislaus Rock-a-chaws met on the field Friday in a weather rain-out game from December 20th that decided the top two seeds heading into the Class 4A state playoffs.

The Rocks (12-6-4, 5-1) defeated the Tigers (11-11-3, 4-2) 2-0 to claim their third consecutive Division 8-4A title.

Brandon Elkins scored the Rocks' first goal in the first half while Max Matzenbaugh added the second goal on a 'kick from the mark' with about 12 minutes remaining in the game to make the final score.

Bay High head coach Kelly Ross commented, "I thought we were playing well and controlling things early on in the game until Liam McKweon was given a yellow card. We had to take him out as we needed him for the playoff game we had already qualified for which left us missing a key component in our offense. SSC scored rather quickly after we took him out. We played hard throughout but just did not have the firepower we needed after the card. We are matched up with Richland in the first round and we are eagerly looking forward to the playoffs."

SSC head coach Danny Patton stated, "It was a tough game and a good win for us. We played smart and did not make any costly mistakes that could hinder us in the playoffs. We are looking forward to the playoffs against Florence. They are a young team with only three seniors. So we need to be focused on what we do well."

The Tigers bowed out of the playoffs with a first round loss to Richland on Monday played ahead of the inclement weather that has besieged the area. The Tigers fell 3-2 on "kicks from the mark". Game details were not available at press time.

The OLA Crescents (11-7-1, 5-3) topped Bay High on Friday 4-0 followed by a pair of division wins over Perry Central on Saturday 8-0 and 9-0.

The Crescents missed out on a trip to the Class 1A/2A/3A playoffs by one goal in a point differential tie-breaker.

In the Bay High game, Olivia Gelpi and Ashlyn Davis each scored one goal while Aubrey Wawrek added two goals. Paige Palazzo recorded the shutout in goal.

OLA head coach Shane Kowalski stated, "We played well tonight and it is a good way to bring the season to close. Throughout the season we were not able to finish our opportunities which hurt us. That is something we will need to work on going forward."

In the first game against Perry Central goals were scored by Samantha Robertson, Allie Gant, Emilie Martin, Mary Beth Viener, Olivia Gelpi, Wawrek and two goals by Paige Palazzo. Lexi Ladner and Palazzo combined for the shutout. Assists were made by Isabella Gelpi, Davis, Martin, Wawrek, Olivia Gelpi with two and Viener with two.

In the second game, goals were made by Olivia Gelpi, Martin, Anna Wadsworth, Aennie Bridges, two by William's and three by Palazzo. Assists were made by Olivia Gelpi with three, Davis, Gant, Grace Schruuff, and Martin.

Rocks upset Tigers 52-50 in Overtime

BY JOSEPH W. GEX, II
STAFF WRITER

The high school basketball regular season is quickly coming to a close with only about 12 days left before the respective division tournaments; however, these last few days are providing quite some excitement on the hardwood.

On Friday evening, the St. Stanislaus Rock-achaws pulled off a big upset in the Division 8-4A race with a 52-50 overtime win against the Bay High Tigers on the road.

The victory was the eighth win in a row for the Rocks while the loss was fourth one in the last five games for the Tigers.

In the first half, the game was back and forth with neither team holding more than a four point advantage.

The first period ended with SSC holding a 14-11 lead. The Tigers (14-10, 7-2) charged back in the second period to claim a slim 26-25 lead at intermission.

By the end of the third period, Bay High stretched their lead to 39-31 heading into the final frame.

The Rocks (13-13, 8-2) outscored the Tigers 14-6 in the final eight minutes to send the game into an extra frame.

Elijah Curry put Bay High up 45-41 with two free throws with 1:45 left. Luke Ladner answered for SSC with a basket one minute later to bring SSC within a bucket at 45-43. A mishandled inbound pass went out of bounds giving the ball back to SSC.

After some jostling around the rim following SSC's shot, Ladner was able to bank the ball in with no time remaining sending the game to overtime knotted at 45-45.

In the extra frame, Bay High went up 50-47 on Curry's old-fashioned three-point play with 2:35 remaining.

Each team struggled to find the basket over the next minute before SSC's Brandon Bordelon went 1-for-2 from the charity stripe with 1:31 left to make the score 50-48.

A little over 30 seconds later, Bordelon sank a basket following a missed free throw to knot the score at 50-50.

Bay High pushed the ball up the court only to misfire on their attempt. The Rocks returned down the court and missed on their attempt but Ladner found himself in the right place again and beat the lucky drum with a putback with no time left on the clock to give SSC the win 52-50.

SSC head coach Aaron Dunklin commented, "This is a huge win for us and I am very proud of our players. What people saw on that court was a group of young men who have made a commitment to play together, the encourage one another and to love each other no matter the outcome. In team competition, that is the attitude that a team must have. We have persevered this season. This is a big win as it has been quite some time since we last beat Bay High. The Tigers are a very well-coached team and play with outstanding effort."

The Rocks were led by Ladner with 14 points followed by Bordelon with 13 and Dallas Payne had 10 points.

Bay High head coach Randy McCrory stated, "This was a tough game. The Bay High/SSC rivalry is a tight one. Both teams played hard and physical and hustled. SSC made plays when they needed to make them which ended up being the difference. Luke Ladner never quit and got himself in the right place which are two good characteristics to have. We still have a tremendous amount to play for and we need to get back to work to correct what inhibited us tonight."

The Tigers were paced by Curry with 20 points followed by CJ Loftin with nine and Kaleb Leavens had eight points.

On Monday, SSC traveled to Pass Christian and ended their regular season on a winning note with a 43-37 victory. Bordelon and Payne each had 13 points while Ladner added 11.

In other boys basketball action, Pass Christian (7-18, 4-5) stumbled against Moss Point 55-36. Hancock (6-17, 1-4) dropped their game on Friday against Biloxi 68-42.

In girls basketball action, Bay High (4-14, 2-5) did not play while Hancock (14-10, 2-3) narrowly lost 28-25 against Biloxi. OLA (3-12, 1-5) fell to North Forrest 69-24 while the Lady Pirates (19-5, 4-4) stumbled against Moss Point 39-36.

In upcoming action, Bay High is set to host Saint Patrick on Friday, February 1st while Hancock travels to Gulfport. OLA will host Collins on Saturday, February 2nd while Pass Christian travels to West Harrison on Friday. SSC does not have any scheduled games until the division tournament. See you at the games!

MRAA Announces 2018 Great Dealerships To Work For

SEA COAST ECHO

The Marine Retailers Association of the Americas named the marine industry's inaugural Great Dealerships to Work For, recognizing 20 boat dealers at an awards program last month and through a publication released today.

The 20 dealerships qualified for recognition through the results of the Marine Industry Certified Dealership Program's annual Employee Satisfaction Survey. This survey, administered anonymously through the MRAA, asks Certified Dealership employees to answer 37 questions about their satisfaction with dealership management and leadership, workplace satisfaction, dealership reputation, and customer relations, all on a scale of 1 to 5, with "5" being Highly Satisfied. The answers add up to a cumulative score for overall Employee Satisfaction, and MRAA recognized all dealerships who achieved a score of 90 percent or better.

"It's common knowledge that employee satisfaction has a direct influence on customer satisfaction," explains Matt Gruhn, MRAA President. "It's truly an honor for us to be able to identify and recognize those businesses and individuals who go to great lengths to create a rewarding and motivational culture and atmosphere for their employees."

In 2018, 190 Certified Dealerships went through the Employee Satisfaction Survey process and were eligible for recognition in the Great Dealerships to Work For Program. Of those who participated, only the top 20 qualified at the 90 percent mark or higher. Those dealerships are:

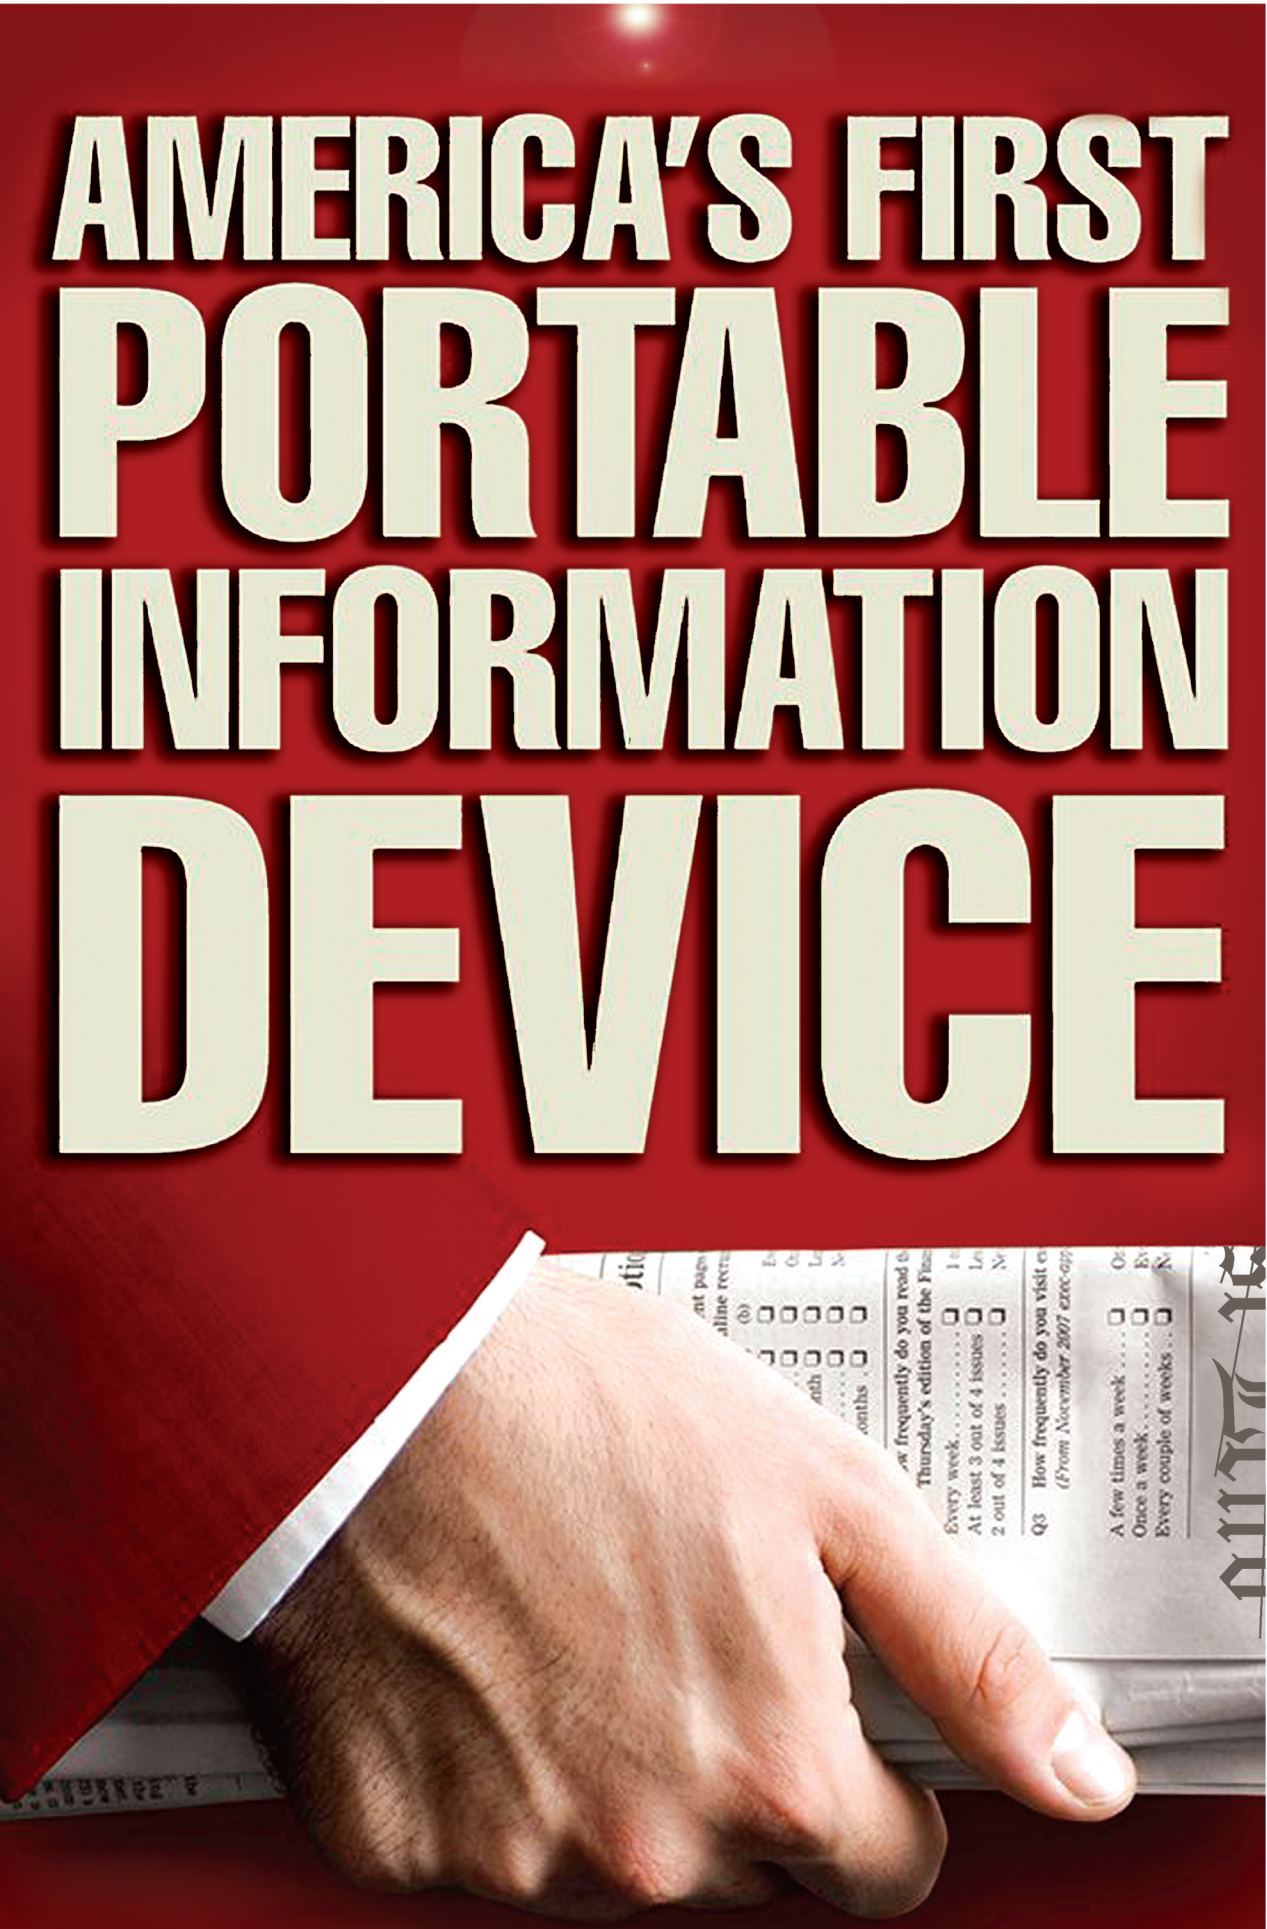

- Breath's Boats & Motors, Bay St. Louis, Mississippi
- Tracker Boat Center, Florence, Alabama
- Bass Pro & Tracker Boat Center, Columbia, Missouri
- Desmasdon's Boat Works, Pointe au Baril, Ontario
- River City Boat Sales, Aurora, Oregon
- Tracker Boat Center, Longview, Texas
- Bass Pro & Tracker Boat Center, Harlingen, Texas
- Tri-State Marine, Deale, Maryland
- Blue Springs Marine, Blue Springs, Missouri
- Boulder Boats, Visalia, California
- Russell Marine, Real Island, Alexander City, Alabama
- M&P Mercury Sales, Burnaby, British Columbia
- Cabela's & Tracker Boat Center, Louisville, Kentucky

"Based on the commitment they've made, the requirements they've met and the continuing education they navigate, not to mention their ongoing focus on both employee and customer satisfaction, we believe that our Certified Dealers are the industry's leading retail businesses," explains MRAA Certification Manager Liz Keener. "These 20 dealerships truly represent the cream of the crop when it comes to measurable, objective outputs like their Employee Satisfaction Survey results, and we are thrilled to recognize their great accomplishments."

About the Marine Retailers Association of the Americas

At the Marine Retailers Association of the Americas, we believe that for the marine industry to thrive, the retail organizations that interact with the boaters in their community must thrive. With that in mind, MRAA works to create a strong and healthy boating industry by uniting those retailers, providing them with opportunities for improvement and growth, and representing them with a powerful voice. For more information, visit MRAA.com or contact us at 763-315-8043.

Bring your dancing shoes! Gal Holiday & the Honky Tonk Revue will be on stage lighting a fire on the dance floor. We are so grateful to the Silver Slipper sponsorship of this music event.

Come watch the mural come alive on the side of the 100 Men Hall as Wendo and JoLean interpret the history of the hall. The Mural project is a visual storyboard meant to promote the vivid recollections of local residents. The mural is made possible in part by a grant from the Mississippi Gulf Coast National Heritage Area, as well as partial matching funding from the Puffin Foundation. Hometown favorite, Steve Barney a/k/a The Mad Potter of Bay Saint Louis, will be throwing pots – upside down. Food Network's Chef Chris Hayes will cook and dish out delectable eats for purchase! Chef Hayes' catering company The Smokin' Oyster has won top honors at high-profile oyster cook-offs.

Local artisan ice pop makers' Pop Brothers from Main Street will have a cart filled with luscious tasty treats.

Come to Bay St. Louis for the weekend and enjoy Old Town's second largest 2nd Saturday, Souper Mud Fest, a well loved fundraiser benefiting the Food Pantry and Animal Shelter. On Sunday, stroll over to the 100 Men Hall for some super Honky Tonkin fun!

100 Men Hall Celebrates Black History Month with a Film Festival

SEA COAST ECHO

The 100 Men Hall will host a film festival to celebrate Black History month, featuring three different films on race in America.

Join us for one, two or watch all three films that look at race in America from a different angle. You are invited to stay after the film for a group discussion. Open to the public.

The 100 Men Hall's mission is to promote and preserve the hall, a centuries' old nexus of social justice and artistic expression for a population historically denied access to both, in the Jim Crow South. Today, the Hall fosters civic participation in a variety of causes to promote the greater common good, supporting community activities that move us and the dialogue on race and equity further along.

The government's business is your business.

And Mississippians count on their newspapers to keep apprised of public notice advertising.

SCAN TO READ THE SURVEY SUMMARY

Half of Mississippi adults recall reading or seeing public notice advertising in a local or state newspaper.

And almost half (46%) of adults who have seen public notice advertising prefer to receive them in a printed newspaper, much higher than any other source.

Most Mississippians (87%) say keeping the public informed through public notices and legal advertising is an important requirement for government agencies. And the preferred method of receiving these notices is in a printed newspaper along with their associated websites.

According to a 2013 Advertising and Media Use Survey*, legal ads in printed newspapers have a much higher credibility than other media.

Over 1.5 million Mississippians read their local newspaper. Whether in print, online or on the go, newspapers are the leading source of information for Mississippi.

HYLA Kicks off New Year with Junior High Program

SEA COAST ECHO

The future is bright for 17 Hancock County eighth graders who have been chosen to participate in the Hancock Youth Leadership Academy. The class is comprised of students from all four middle schools in the county (Bay/Waveland Middle, Hancock Middle, Our Lady Academy, and St. Stanislaus College). “We are so excited to be able to offer this program for the eighth consecutive year! This year, seventeen students will benefit from the program. The students will recognize their leadership potential by learning the importance of being successful and independent,” said Rhonda Rhodes, President of the Hancock Resource Center. The students will participate in three workshops in the next few months, a service project, retreat, and a May graduation ceremony. The first session was sponsored by Accelerated Physical Therapy and was held on January 16th at the Hancock Resource Center. The students participated in several activities which helped them learn more about each other and the different characteristics of being a good leader. The Hancock Youth Leadership Academy is the only county-wide youth leadership program for Hancock County, and is a program of The Hancock Resource Center. At this time, local community sponsorships are needed.

Please consider sponsoring a session or making a general donation to support the ongoing operation of the Hancock Youth Leadership Academy. Invest in Hancock County’s future by cultivating its next generation of leaders: visit www.hancockhrc.org or call 228-463-8887 to learn how.

Research reveals that people are more absorbed and attentive when they read newspaper content.

No matter how The Sea Coast Echo® captures a reader's attention, we are remarkably successful at keeping it. An NRS survey says newspaper readers are more relaxed than TV viewers and radio listeners and less likely to be multi-screening. In fact, the 36 million who pick up a paper spend over an hour reading and don't multi-screen at all. Nothing works like The Echo works.
